Nevada state law limits contributions to political candidates in the following ways: Contributions from a single individual or entity cannot exceed $10,000 over the course of the entire campaign. All contributions received in excess of $100 must be reported by the candidate and contain the name, address and phone number of the contributor. Any non-foreign person, organization, corporation, business, or labor group may contribute.

We gather basic information with each donation for financial reporting purposes only. We never sell, barter, trade or share this information with any other individual or groups.
